

THE WHITE EAGLE PASSED MARCH 20

Profs. Shocked At Columbia By College Paper

New York, March 9.—Staid Columbia University professors today received a shock when they opened their copies of the "Black and Blue," book, an anonymous campus publication and found therein specific instructions to men students on how and when to "pet," how to care for a fraternity brother found in an intoxicated condition, how to pick "snap" courses, and "easy" professors and other information designed to lead the student to the "Perfect Life."

"The touch, as in typewriting, should be light. Running your fingers through her hair is also very effective. The best place to do it" is described to be "the softest sofa with no one at home."

The content of the last page of the fifty-page booklet will be gladly received by Margot Asquith, as it upholds her assertion of the failure of prohibition in the United States. It is a blank to be filled in with the proper names and addresses and carried in the male collegian's bill fold. It reads like this:

"If the bearer is found intoxicated please deliver to:

The book's editors identified as "Contempt O'Court" and "St. Loyola Blanket," pointed out in an introduction that the "compendium of information if properly digested, will guarantee the success of any man's college career."

Apparently the editors failed to take into consideration the reception which the book may have from the faculty in outlying districts who consider Columbia too risky a place to send their women school teachers for absorbing knowledge in the summer sessions. The summer term is described as a "good opportunity to make six or eight dollars, and to meet the ten per cent. of the female population who are no 'elderly school teachers.'"

"Petting Is Good Sport." "Petting," the book says, "is the most enjoyable intercollegiate sport with the exception of taking a girl to a swimming meet. It is axiomatic that every girl gets it. It is merely a matter of discrimination and degree. Many a woman who insists on privacy when she powders her nose will let you ruin her hair net."

"Always pet in darkness," instructions say. "Not so much because of modesty but of imagination. This will also prevent being caught in an embarrassing situation. Remember, home unexpectedly for the other quart."

Included in "general instructions" were: "Do not drop your arm around a girl's shoulders as it makes her neck ache. If you must, take care to keep it level. A girl's neck is very delicate and will be alleviated by holding her in your lap."

The entire issue of 300 copies was sold on the campus at 25 cents a copy within five hours after publication. The editors prepared for a reprinting but Dean Hawkes of Columbia college learning of the plan, ordered the publication "Squashed." Zealous holders of the nine hundred priced copies were exulting today over their less fortunate fellow classmates.

MISS MARGARET CLABBY TO BE BURIED SATURDAY

Arrangements were completed today for the funeral of Miss Margaret Clabby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clabby, which will be Saturday morning at 9:30 from her home, 805 Beechwood avenue, and in St. Augustine's church at 10 o'clock. A solemn high mass will be sung. Interment will be made in St. Michael's cemetery.

Miss Clabby was very well known in this city and before her death had been employed in the office of Bradstreet Mercantile agency. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Raymond Clabby, and one sister, Miss Ursula Clabby.

ESTATE NOT LARGE.

A $5,000 interest in property in Wadsworth street, the estate of John Karafa, late of Bridgeport, according to an inventory filed in the Probate Court today. The inventory was entered by Louis Karafa, administrator. The appraisers were Joseph Koletar and Frank Barna.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Industrial Committee of the Retail Merchants' Board tonight at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. More detailed plans for the coming year will be discussed and the "boost Bridgeport" movement will be outlined.

City Expenses Will Be Decreased By $1,370,000 Despite $750,000 For Relief

Municipal expenses for the year 1922-23 will be $1,370,000 less than last year, according to figures compiled by city clerk Francis Dunigan. Total appropriations last year amounted to $9,084,062.41, but this has been reduced to $7,714,062.41 for the coming year. This reduction has been made by exercising the strictest economy in all departments, and de-

$600,000 Ready For Road Improvements—To Be Done By Charity Dept.

After April 1, when the money appropriated for road work during the coming year becomes available, the Streets and Sidewalks Committee of the Common Council is going to be an exceedingly busy organization. Members of the committee will consider the requests of individuals, and districts for road repair work, and will then decide upon the streets to be repaired. George Coullin, Director of Public Works, will also advance recommendations as to streets that are in need of attention.

Approximately $600,000 for road improvements will be ready next month. This fund will be under the control of the Charity Department, and all labor will be hired through this board.

Railroad avenue is one street which is likely to receive a permanent pavement. "If a cement pavement is laid in this street it will mean the creation of another through highway in the city, over which can be shunted motor trucks and other heavy vehicles. Residents in Fairfield avenue and State street have complained about the great number of automobile trucks travelling over these highways, and it is claimed by some property owners that the vibration caused by the machines is damaging the foundation and walls of houses.

Previously in the bad graces of the Fairfield County Bar association when Attorney Charles S. Canfield was President of the Grievance committee, Attorney Salvatore Genuario of Norwalk, is again in trouble, due to alleged malpractice, and disbarment action seems likely to follow. Several years ago the young man was before the Grievance committee, upon a number of charges, among them being one of appropriating client's funds. The committee at that time besides Canfield was composed of Gen. Russell Frost, and Judge Taylor, the former of Norwalk and the latter of Stamford. The decision of the committee at that time was to submit the affair to brother attorneys of Norwalk. Since then the matter has been invited among those who were in favor of pushing disbarment proceedings, and those who were inclined to hold the charges in abeyance and let the young attorney another chance. The charges were not dropped.

Again in trouble, this time over a divorce matter, handled in an alleged questionable manner, and with almost every lawyer in Norwalk holding a charge of some time or other against him, it seems probable that Secretary Samuel C. Shaw of the new Grievance committee, and State's Attorney Cummings, will press the charges and disbar Genuario. A hearing was held at the Norwalk City hall a few days ago, at which startling testimony is said to have been heard.

Tomorrow during the short calendar session of Superior court before Judge John W. Banks an order will be asked requiring the defendant to file an answer or for decree of disbarment.

Genuario May Be Disbarred

More than 1,500 answers to the newspaper title puzzle held conducted by the Bridgeport Typographical Union, No. 252, have been received at the rooms of the union in Main street. The three papers in the puzzle contest are union papers of the city and everyone with the exception of members of the union and employees of the paper have the right to send in answers to the title puzzle.

For correct answers there are fifteen prizes, the highest being a five dollar one. The correct answers will be selected at the mass meeting to be held by the Central Labor Union at Carpenter's hall, Wednesday evening, March 15, at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to bring all labor organizations and workers of the city together and point the way to a united organized body for the city.

Neatness will receive consideration by the judges. The contest closes March 14 and all answers must be mailed on or before that date.

Income Returns Coming In Slow

Income tax returns are still coming in at the Internal Revenue office but not in numbers large enough to suit the collectors. Division Chief Wm. C. Howell, who has in charge the Stamford, Norwalk, Danbury and Bridgeport offices, said that the returns at those offices with the exception of Bridgeport, are coming in good and that there will probably be very few delinquents for these offices.

There are exactly six more days to file the returns so again taxpayers are warned to file their returns. The office is open from 9 in the morning until 5 at night.

FIRE DAMAGE SLIGHT

Fire which is believed to have started in shavings from spontaneous combustion did damage estimated at $500 in the store of the Lumber Co. on East Washington avenue about four o'clock this morning.

Short Change Artist Vanishes

No trace of the short change artist who yesterday afternoon swindled a clerk at the Sunlight Bakery at 305 State street, $20 has been yet found. The detective bureau is investigating the case. The man entered the store and asked for a twenty dollar bill in exchange for twenty ones. Upon receiving the bill he handed the clerk eighteen one dollar bills instead of twenty. The discrepancy was called to his attention and in the meantime he placed the twenty dollar bill in an envelope. He then took the eighteen dollars back and stated he would go out and get two more dollars. He then returned the envelope but when he did not return in over an hour the envelope was opened and found to be empty.

$24,000 Today's Total In Drive By Local Jews

Reports of the third noonday luncheon of the Jewish Relief Drive held at the Elks' club indicate that the allotted quota of $50,000 for this city will be easily reached by Saturday. According to the statistics available at noon over $24,000 has been raised to date. The largest crowd that has as yet attended a luncheon was present today and there is no doubt that the enthusiasm and pep which was somewhat dormant at the start of the drive is now at a high pitch.

A pep talk was given today by Charles Shapiro, state chairman, who urged the campaign workers on to greater efforts in their campaign to aid their orphan brothers. Chairman Greenspan presided at the luncheon and he also gave a short address. Another luncheon will be held at the clubhouse tomorrow noon.

State Chairman Shapiro urged all the workers to stop profiteering and prove an inspiration to the workers in New Haven and Hartford. National Chairman of the Jewish Relief Drive, David A. Brodsky, of Detroit, sent a letter to the local headquarters urging that the drive be continued for another week as New York and other cities in the country were going to continue the drive. It is probable that the drive will be continued another week in Bridgeport.

Today's total amount of money collected is a jump of $5,000 over yesterday.

No Action In Divorce Suit

Pending a conference between counsel and an opinion by Judge L. P. Waldo in the divorce suit of Veneta C. Alden, Bridgeport, against George E. Alden, New York City.

What had been anticipated would be a hotly contested suit may never be heard in court, reports from reliable sources today, indicating that a settlement is being reached early this afternoon.

Aldens have three minor children. They are Veneta C. three; George E. two; and Leroy A. one. The couple were married January 20, 1917. The plaintiff's maiden name being Brown. Intolerable cruelty was alleged to have occurred on and subsequent to October 1, 1918. The defendant entered a counter suit accusing his wife of infidelity, and also cruelty. The case had been scheduled for hearing Tuesday morning, but was the subject of two postponements, until today, because of the illness of Judge Marvin, who was just sufficiently recovered to hear cases today.

Taxi Stands Are Closely Watched

Superintendent of Police Patrick Flanagan spent most of this morning at the railroad station investigating the conditions existing among taxi and public hack drivers at the station. Passengers arriving in Bridgeport have made complaints to the railroad about the conditions existing among taxi and public hack drivers at the station. Reports say that the taxi men literally seize grips of passengers and push them into their cabs in order to get a fare.

Police records tell of a number of fights among the drivers over fares. The railroad officials say that the drivers are on their property and that they will probably order them off.

Superintendent Flanagan interviewed officials at the station and unknown to taxi drivers watched them as they attempted to get fares. His report will probably be made to the police commissioners.

No Further Action To Identify Suicide As Taylor's Missing Valet

Hartford, Conn., March 9.—That no further action will be taken by the state police at least looking toward an attempt to identify the Warehouse Point suicide as Edward P. Sands, missing chauffeur valet of William Desmond Taylor, murdered moving picture director, unless the Los Angeles police, who are looking for Sands request it, was indicated today by State Police Chief Robert Hurley.

"I have received no communication from the Los Angeles police and I have no reason to expect I will receive any," declared Chief Hurley. "I assume that the Los Angeles police know what they are doing and it is not for me to tell them their business."

Chief Hurley confirmed the fact that the finger prints of the suicide had been sent to the Navy Bureau of Navigation in an attempt to identify the suicide, who was believed to be a sailor, but no word has come from Washington as yet regarding them.

FIRST PHOTO OF PRINCESS MARY AND HUSBAND IN ROYAL WEDDING CLOTHES

Start Movement Against Profiteering Physicians

New Haven, Conn., March 9.—A movement was started in Bristol by a well known business man of that city to start a movement against profiteering by physicians, has been followed here by an agitation to put a quiescent on profiteering by nurses.

While the Bristol campaign is working from outside the doctors' profession, the move among the nurses here is working from within. New York and other nurses, who have come into the city are responsible for the high prices, according to the opinions expressed at a meeting of local nurses yesterday.

A standard price of $42 per week for surgical, mental and contagious cases and $35 per week for ordinary cases, has been suggested and will probably be fixed by the nurses organization here as the standard wage.

Enforcement of the standard fee will be secured by asking hospitals, physicians and nurses' registries to abide by them.

There is likely to be a movement started soon for a state law fixing the fees which graduate nurses may charge, as in Massachusetts.

The overcharging by nurses is unprofessional, according to Miss Jeanette Van Couvering, who is leader of the movement among the nurses here. Nurses, whose services are theoretically devoted to humanity, have no right to take advantage of the law of supply and demand in fixing prices, she asserted.

Nurses who do this are thinking more of their wages than the welfare of the sick which should be the first concern of a good nurse, she declares.

APPRAISERS NAMED.

A Arthur Brown and Leopold Weiss were today appointed appraisers in the estate of the late Alexander Gottlieb, of this city, who died Feb. 23. The estate is valued at $20,000, in real estate and personal property.

Rebecca Gottlieb, widow of the deceased, has been appointed administratrix. Two daughters, Leah and Ruth and Mrs. Gottlieb are named as heirs in the will.

No Decision On Dental Hygiene While Pushing Wheel Barrow

When the case of Richard Moore against Leonard Quattrella was called before Judge D. P. Waldo Marvin in Superior court today, Dr. B. H. Lambert was the only witness placed on the stand, due to Attorney Pasquale Vioni being late. Dr. Lambert gave some expert testimony and the case was continued until Tuesday the court not wishing to further inconvenience the doctor.

Damages of $5,000 are sought by Moore, who claims that November 15, 1920, he was struck by an automobile on Pembroke street, while he was in the act of pushing a wheelbarrow. Serious injuries are alleged to have been incurred because of negligence upon the part of the defendant. Dr. Lambert described a trepanning operation, while he was on the stand today.

SALOONS QUIT.

Twenty-one search and seizure warrants issued by Prosecutor Garre were returned to his office today, fourteen marked no evidence and the other seven showed that the places in question had gone out of business.

TRAFFIC SQUAD AFTER VIOLATORS.

The second annual spring drive of Traffic Department netted nine violators of the auto laws today. All men will be arraigned in the city court tomorrow. Those arrested were Paul Pearson of 29 Whitney avenue, Alfred Lenoci of 212 Hallett street, Michael Tencio of 55 South Main street, Michael Hoffman of 91 Barndon avenue, William Kazak of 80 Division street, Derby, and William Nadeau of 75 South Main street. All the above are charged with driving a car without an operator's license.

Arthur Griswold of Long Hill was arrested on a charge of speeding, it being alleged that he was driving his car at the rate of 40 miles an hour on North Main street.

George Middleton of 132 Sage street and Samuel Baum of 618 Water street were charged with having the proper rear lights.

Examination of the body of the suicide is still being urged in an attempt to clear up the striking similarity in the descriptions and photographs of Sands and the suicide but is said to be unlikely to be ordered unless developments in the investigation of the identity of the dead man make further examination essential.

Supreme Court Finds An Error

Two Important Suits Settled At Sitting Of High Court In Hartford.

Hartford, March 9.—Error is found and cause remanded with direction to set aside the judgment for the plaintiff and enter judgment for the defendant in a Supreme court decision in the case of C. D. S. Miller, and others, against Francis H. MacFarland and others, all Bridgeport. The case was tried first in the Superior court of Fairfield county before Judge Kellogg, where judgment was rendered for the plaintiff.

The plaintiffs bought from the defendants property of the Bridgeport Silverware Co. ordered by the defendants in the business of making or selling casket hardware for a period of five years. For faithful performance of this, the defendants bound themselves in the sum of $3,500. About a year ago, however, the defendants did engage again in this business, and it was to recover the $3,500 that the plaintiff brought suit.

Soon after purchasing the original concern, the plaintiffs caused a new corporation to be organized under the name of the Silverware Silverware Corporation, and received 230 out of 240 shares of the capital stock. They did not, however, assign to the corporation the bond sued on or any interest therein.

In the decision, it is pointed out that if the plaintiffs were still the owners of the business which the covenant against competition was intended to protect, the judgment would be upheld. For the reasons mentioned, however, the fact that the plaintiffs sold the entire business and received stock in payment for it, assigns an injury to the first case, and the plaintiffs are held liable for the directors refused to bring such an action against the corporation.

This action, however, is brought by the plaintiffs as individuals.

Roth vs. Chaudron.

No error is found in the case of Charles V. Roth against William Chaudron, another Bridgeport case. The case was first heard in the Superior court of Fairfield county before Judge Keeler and jury, and verdict and judgment for the plaintiff for $5,000.

The plaintiff was riding a bicycle in Bridgeport when he was struck by an automobile truck driven by the defendant's agent. In the first case, of course, each held the other at fault. The appeal was from the denial of the motion to set aside the verdict, and for errors in the charge of the jury and for rulings on evidence. None of these objections was upheld.

Two Bankrupt Petitions Filed

Two local concerns have been declared insolvent in involuntary petitions filed against them in the city office of Referee in Bankruptcy, John Keogh. The first is the Acme Sanitary Supply company, 258 John street. The second is the Acme Sanitary Supply company, 258 John street.

The Abercrombie-Bock Electrical company, 1048 John street is declared to have assets of only $3,000 and liabilities of $16,000. In petitions filed against the business by Edwin C. Lewis, Boston; Joseph T. Hessel, New Haven; and the Hartford Electric company, of Hartford.

So Declare Leaders In Congress

Democratic Members Of The Ways And Means Committee Will Meet With The Republican Members Who Framed The Bonus Bill Next Saturday To Consider The Bill. It is Expected That Some Of The Democratic Members, Possibly All Of Them, May Vote To Report The Bill Favorably From Committee.

Washington, March 9.—The soldier bonus bill will be passed by the House Monday, March 20, unless plans completed by House Republican leaders today are changed. Under set rules of the House the bill can be called upon on that date and by a two-thirds vote sent along to passage without opportunity being offered for changes and on a direct vote on the bill itself. This will mean a vote for or a vote against a soldier bonus. It is confidently believed that the bill will get far more than the required two-thirds of all votes cast.

This course has been decided upon tentatively by the House Republican leaders to check off a threatened move on the part of the advocates of a sales tax from joining with the House leaders for an excess profits tax to hang on to the bonus bill a provision carrying these two taxes. Few of the House leaders favor a sales tax, and no Republican leader will stand for an excess profits tax.

The army appropriation bill will be brought out next Monday. There is to come a sharp fight on this army bill. It is expected that the House will pass it as it now stands and those demanding an army much smaller in enlisted personnel and in officers. It will take nearly a week to dispose of this legislation.

Bench Warrant For Capolda

A bench warrant for the arrest of Pasquale Capolda of Waterbury will probably be sworn out this afternoon by Judge Kellogg so that Capolda may be tried for attempted burglary at this term of the Criminal Superior court. Capolda was arrested in Waterbury charged with complicity in the attempted burglary at the home of Albert Dow on Yale street. Robert Wilson of New Haven and Paul Rogers of Bridgeport were recently discharged in the Criminal Superior Court when arraigned on the same charges as being held by the police as material witnesses.

EAST SIDE BUSINESS MEN HOLD MEETING

There was a meeting of the East Side business men last night at Arion Hall on East Main street. Many of the prominent merchants were present to talk over the general business conditions and many suggestions were offered for methods that would stimulate business on the East Main street section.

It was unanimously agreed that a Dollar Day would successfully appeal to the buying public. The day was set for Tuesday, March 14th, and from the general talk among the merchants there are going to be some good buys offered on that day. The merchants participating will later announce the bargains offered through the papers.

FUNERAL OF LATE MRS. BUCKINGHAM TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Helen Toiles Buckingham was held this afternoon at 2:30 from her home, 25 Tom Thumb street, where Rev. Herbert Brown, pastor of the Congregational church, conducted the service. Interment was made in Mountain Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Buckingham, who died Tuesday, was the wife of Walter T. Buckingham and mother of ex-Mayor and present Compensation Commissioner Edward T. Buckingham and Mrs. Thomas W. Joyce. She is also survived by three grandchildren, Edward T. Buckingham, Jr., Louis Joyce and Mrs. Oliver Martin.

ESTATE INVENTORIED

An inventory of the estate of the late Anna B. Morton, was filed in the Probate court today, and shows the estate to be valued at $1,189.28. Of this amount, $439.28 is cash in banks and the remainder mortgages.

MILK DEALER FINED

Michael Cacirolo of Trumbull was arrested yesterday charged with using milk bottles belonging to other dealers. He was fined $10 and costs for each bottle, the total fine amounting to $7.02.

Armed Party Halts Troops

London, March 9.—The Dublin correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company reports that an armed party halted eight British soldiers under the charge of a sergeant at Waterford last night, and ordered them to put their hands up. The sergeant alone did not comply, whereupon he was shot and wounded. The assailants seized the rifles and equipment of the soldiers and decamped.

Municipal expenses for the year 1922-23 will be $1,370,000 less than last year, according to figures compiled by city clerk Francis Dunigan. pite the fact that an appropriation of approximately $750,000 has been made for the relief of the unemployed.
